Your Love & Romance Forecast begins on the following page. If the time period for an interpretation is, for example, given as "Apr 1, 1998 (Feb 15, 1998 to May 15, 1998)", then it starts in mid-February, reaches greatest intensity around April 1, and ends in mid-May. The first date listed is the time when the influence has reached maximum strength; we can call this date the "peak date". The influence starts on the beginning date, gradually increases in strength until the peak date is reached, and then it gradually fades out until the ending date is reached.

You may also notice that the same interpretation shows up periodically during the year; this is not unusual. To eliminate redundant interpretations, you may be informed that the astrological influence also occurred earlier and that you should refer back to the previous occurrence of this interpretation.

At the top right margin after the dates, the abbreviated names of the aspects and the two factors involved are given. For example, "Jup Sqr Sat" means that during the given dates "transiting Jupiter" is squaring your "natal Saturn". That is to say, the first factor that appears is always the transiting planet (present position of the planet in the zodiac), while the second component of the pair is "natal", or the position it was in the zodiac at your birth.

At the beginning of each interpretation the complete name of the aspect and the two factors involved are given in capitalized letters. As before, the first planet is in "transit" while the second is "natal".

Below it, the INTENSITY of the aspect is indicated in a scale from 1 to 10. That is to say, an aspect with an influence of 1 is very weak and may not even be noticed. On the other hand, an influence of 10 is very powerful. We can consider aspects with an intensity of 8, 9 or 10 VERY STRONG, 6 or 7 STRONG, 4 or 5 AVERAGE, DECREASING at 2 or 3 and VERY WEAK at 0 or 1.

This report interprets the aspects between the transiting planets and the following three natal planets: Moon, Venus and Pluto.

VENUS SQUARE PLUTO

INTENSITY: 1

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Venus to Pluto brings an increase of your sensuous vital energies. This means that your affections will be accentuated during the time of this astrological aspect. An increase of your personal energy level in principle is of neutral character, that is to say, neither harmonious nor disharmonious, since this depends a great deal on your will. A disharmonious astrological aspect, without a doubt, could incline you to express that energy in an unbalanced way or against your natural character. That is to say, your affectionate energy could have psychological manifestations of a disharmonious character, such as jealousy, excessive attachment to your loved one, or trying to impose your whims on your mate by more or less subtle methods. It is advisable to become aware of this and to control certain instinctive tendencies that now could emerge. Remember that happiness in your relationship, the integration with your loved one, and your personal accomplishment depends a great deal on the respect you have for yourself and each other. Avoid capricious, disrespectful or out of place reactions, and try to amend this kind of conduct and extreme attitudes, always cultivating a moderate and balanced behavior.

Desire is an innate and natural inclination in human beings and, if it is accompanied by emotions and higher thoughts, constitutes the basis for greater happiness and personal development. It is important that the desire always will be an instrument of the personality, and not the other way around, since in this case sooner or later dissatisfaction is produced. Thus, if you allow yourself to be controlled by the instinct of pleasure, you won't have the ability to relax, to enjoy yourself and expand the relationship with your mate. Rather, a vacuum sensation exists upon channeling personal sensuous energies only toward physical pleasure.

You have to learn to relax, to take your time, and to give your sensuous appetites a creative impulse, which neither more nor less is the basis of total sexuality.

Jan 5, 2010 8 PM (Jan 4, 2010 to Jan 6, 2010) Sun Sqr Moon

SUN SQUARE MOON

INTENSITY: 2

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Moon doesn't have too much strength, but can be used to amend certain imbalances in your family relationships. Fundamentally, you tend to go to opposite extremes and find it hard to stay on the middle ground. In the first place, at given times you are inclined to be too individualistic, arrogant and self-sufficient in your family relationships. You tend to impose your own points of view and do it in a certain shaky, capricious way according to your emotional state at the moment in question. In other cases you will be inclined to the opposite extreme, that is to say, to be attached and to depend too much on what could be called the "family warmth". In this case you prefer to depend on the family unit before venturing out and solving your own problems.

Briefly, it is necessary to learn how to achieve the right balance concerning your family relationships and emotional affections, neither trying to be the center of the family, nor intending that your loved ones solve your problems for you. This certainly is a difficult road that requires personal security, self-discipline and self-understanding. It is necessary to give in order to receive, which is a simple rule and very practical in regard to family relationships. That is to say, if you are stronger, you will be able to contribute more to your family, which also will be strengthened and at the same time will have more ability to protect you. In other words, the more the family unit is strengthened, the more your integration will be strengthened. Increase your personal security, project that personal security to your family, and you will find that your family relationships improve notably. In that way you are going to be admired, understood and taken into account thanks to your personal securities.

VENUS SQUARE MOON

During the days of this aspect your psychological state probably will fluctuate from the height of superficial happiness to extreme melancholia and a sense of isolation. In reality, there are two kinds of vibrations that prevent you from maintaining an even course, but are continually tilting from one extreme to the other. It is advisable to take some time for personal reflection, thinking about your more recent affectionate or sentimental experiences, before reacting or acting without previous contemplation. Now is the time to look deeper into your real psyche, avoiding at all cost to express your feelings outwardly without having sufficiently worked out what comes from within.

If you are sensitive or affected by the reaction of a relative, a friend, a loved one or even your mate, above all control your imagination, otherwise you run the risk of making a mountain out of a mole hill. Don't evade the situations or people responsible for your sensitivity, but simply reflect on the real meaning of that experience and how to respond to it. Either way, after calming yourself and having reflected you think that your loved one has made a mistake, it is advisable to outline everything smoothly and objectively without getting too personal.

You won't go from a feeling of joy to melancholia very easily, since you are not living in a fairy tale nor in a valley of tears. Find a balance between your family responsibilities and your need for entertainment, amuse yourself and relax a while. If you are involved in a love relationship now, see to it that it will be as harmonious as possible with your family to avoid small irritations or sensitivities in the future.

SUN SEXTILE VENUS

INTENSITY: ○

During the time of this harmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Venus your sensuous and affectionate feelings will be accentuated, that is to say, will be expressed clearly; without shyness, disguise or any complex. You now are sure of your feelings and need to revitalize them by sharing them openly with your mate. There is a better understanding between you and your loved one, since you experience that through your love relationship your own personal limits are transcended.

If you are in love with someone and up until now have not expressed your feelings, it probably would be a good time to do it, provided that you are sure and know for certain that your selection is right. If you already have someone or are married, use this chance to reaffirm your love for them, since that revitalizes the feelings for both of you.

What makes your love relationship more attractive now is that you are sure within yourself, which is not being attached or dependent on your mate, or searching for energies that you may lack; on the contrary, you radiate energy and want to share it with the person you love.

There is a possibility of making a good social contact, or entering a higher circle thanks to the prestige of your mate or partner. The harmonious influence of the Sun can bring a small social rise or personal prestige in your life, to a degree thanks to the harmonious influence you are having and in that sense your companion.

VENUS SEXTILE VENUS

INTENSITY: O

A harmonious aspect of transiting Venus to Venus brings expansion of love, that is to say, you will be able to better understand your loved one. Your inner feelings are finer, higher and less egotistical, and you are more tolerant toward other people. Your sensuality is accentuated and you could have an especially happy and satisfying experience at this time. Fundamentally, it constitutes a "confirmation" of love, since, if the selection of your mate has been right, you now are going to obtain sufficient proof about your selection. Thus, you will note that the other person actually wants you and needs you, which, without a doubt, will generate a juvenile and refreshing sensation in you.

Obviously, this is not an astrological aspect of great strength that coincides with one or two details that are consciously noticeable -evidently one must wait for big events. Above all, it means enjoying what you have and coming a step closer toward the harmonization between you and your loved one. Express your love with naturalness and you will find that this simple act will rebound immediately. Be guided more or less by the fact that "when you give you shall receive". Express your love subtly and make use of aesthetic details of beautiful character, as the Venusian vibration is related to art, harmony, good taste and the right mood, all of which improve and extol the act of love.

Enjoy any moment of happiness that you could have now and you will see that happiness attracts happiness and what is high is integrated with the high. Understand, live and experience love as something that is simultaneously produced on several levels, that is to say, in the physical dominance as well as the emotional, mental and spiritual. The more global and total your idea and vivacity of love will be, the greater the importance of the experiences in your life will be.

MARS SEXTILE MOON

This harmonious astrological aspect energizes your emotions. That is to say, you will feel more competent to express your mental and emotional states in an open way, which causes you to be more direct and spontaneous in your sentimental relationships and, especially, with your family. If you usually are shy, it is a good time to exercise emotional advantage, self-confidence and direct expression of your emotional states.

As a rule, you will be more inclined to define circumstances, to participate actively, to decide and take part in family problems. In other words, you will prefer to take part in family decisions, and in that way try to improve conditions in your family, or solve problems that have been delayed or stagnant for some time. You never will avoid your part of responsibility that touches the dynamics of your family.

You now will be more sure of yourself psychologically, and what is very important, you are not attached to or stopped by people in your family environment. You prefer to devote part of your energies, your time and your effort to improve the dynamics of your family, have family gatherings from time to time to talk over your problems, or simply to pass the time. Thus, your personal self-esteem is increased, making you a very useful person prejudiced toward evolution and change, which will not bring states of emotional susceptibility or evasion. You prefer to sweeten the circumstances with motivation, facts, and fruit, rather than to attempt to adorn them, to defer them, or simply to delay them.

Sincerity and spontaneity in your emotional manifestations are essential for you now. You prefer to vent any possible resentment, hurt feelings or misunderstandings immediately. If there is something that concerns you or that doesn't seem right in your emotional relationships, you will try to clear the air quickly and without any dubiousness.

Briefly, you are going to express yourself with clear, direct and defined emotions, knowing how to combine your personal freedom with your responsibility toward your family or loved ones. All in all, it will be a phase in which your emotional and psychic experiences will be enriched, conscious, filled with life and very vital.

VENUS TRINE PLUTO

INTENSITY: 1

This astrological aspect lasts only a few days, but on occasion it's effect can be felt in a palpable way. Your sensuality and your ability to love are increased now, making you more intense with greater depth and creative energy. It is a personal cycle that can serve you to intensively fuse with your mate.

If you currently are not involved with anyone, use this period to become aware of your creative potential and get to know yourself better. Your personal security will attract the opposite sex, and there is a possibility of someone becoming interested in you. In this case, try to be selective at the time of choosing a companion, since it is preferable to be alone rather than making the wrong choice. Remember that nobody is pushing you to get a mate quickly. Without a doubt, it can be said that quality is worth more than quantity. If you pass this short and intensive cycle in solitary, become fully aware of yourself as an independent and creative individual.

A harmonious aspect of Venus to Pluto is a small step toward ascending the height of sexual alchemy, which is based on the progressive increase of sexual energy as well as control over it. Uncontrolled sexuality is precisely the opposite of happiness and fulfillment in the relationship of a couple. On the other hand, high and conscious sexuality inclines to personal self-realization and complete satisfaction in the relationship.

It is a good time to live, study and practice total integration in your affectionate relationship, where the body, the psyche and the mind collaborate toward the same end: fusion, and as a result evolution. Enjoy yourself intensely and become aware of each instant, since true love is bound to the full awareness of each act, each gesture, each feeling and each thought.

SUN TRINE PLUTO

INTENSITY: 2

At this time your sexuality and total vital energy will be revitalized and must be released through a creative exchange. You will be fully aware of the effect of love and of each instant in the interrelationship with your partner. Moments like this cannot be repeated and, without a doubt, constitute a great opportunity to develop and improve your own psychological qualities. Sexuality is not only a release of energy, but to understand yourself through exchange with the other. The act of love is an event of self-understanding and personal self-realization.

This is a good time to openly express your feelings so that you will be totally sincere with yourself and with your loved one. Sharing is being open to new realities, and opening up is necessary for a confident and respectful environment. Putting these qualities into practice will prove that boredom and monotony do not exist in real love. There always is something new to experience, to communicate and to put into practice. Sexuality should not wear out your energy, but release, expand, revitalize and recover your personal strength. This is a good way of finding out if the relationship works correctly, since "nothing is created, nothing is destroyed and all is transformed". Thus, the integral act of love must result in the revitalization of both partners on the physical as well as the emotional and mental levels. As a rule, when someone is tired, it is because you are not achieving an energy circuit adapted to the environment. On the other hand, when someone is revitalized, it is because you readily tune into others, and in this case, your partner.

Talk about your improvements since you were together, comment on the psychological deficiencies you have surpassed, and bring to light those that still need a bit of polishing. This sincere exchange produces great results and deepens your level of communication.

Jan 30, 2010 7 PM (Jan 30, 2010 to Jan 31, 2010) Ven Trine Moon

VENUS TRINE MOON

INTENSITY: 1

A harmonious aspect between Venus and Moon indicates the escalation of your personal romanticism. Your imagination is intensified now, especially, since your surroundings provide a stimuli and small daily events that make you agreeable and merry. In this respect, you could receive a gift, a call, have a special meaningful encounter, or simply will observe that some of your loved ones respond to you in a vibrant, cozy and warm way. During this short period of time, there is harmony between your need to be open, amused and loved on one hand, and your family responsibilities or relationship to your parents on the other hand. Thus, if you are involved in a love relationship now, you will find that the interrelationship will be more and better accepted by your family.

Everything mentioned, without a doubt, will bring greater inner emotional balance and promote some very important and satisfactory relationships with people of your emotional and family environment. You are especially receptive to the feelings and emotional states of other people, which increases your capacity of intense psychic communication with your loved ones or those you protect.

Your feelings are fine and pure now, and at the same time you will want contact with beauty, amusement, aesthetics and art as way of releasing your creative inspiration.

During the time of this aspect it is advisable to acquire a greater vision of the positive elements that sentimentally are forming part of your life; thus, if you give inner thanks for the good things happening to you, it is very probable that they are expanded and magnified. Don't concentrate on things you lack or would like to possess emotionally, it would be preferable to put your psyche on positive things and what is good for your family and sentimental relationships. In some way, perfection in human relationships is impossible.

Feb 2, 2010 11 AM (Jan 30, 2010 to Feb 5, 2010) Mars Sxtil Plu

MARS SEXTILE PLUTO

This harmonious aspect of transiting Mars to Pluto generates an increase of your sexual and vital energy. Sexual energy is bound to self-confidence, which increases your total energy and personal magnetism during this period. It is a good time to deepen the interrelationship that exists between managing sexual energy and total vital energy. Sexual energy is a manifestation of total vital energy, and when sexual energy is used adequately, vital energy is increased. If you now have a satisfying sexual life you will observe that your personal energy will increase. Briefly, real sexuality does not consist of squandering your own energy, but exchanging it in an act in which psychological penetration, confidence and understanding with your mate exists. Thus, when mutual confidence and respect exists, sexual energy is exchanged and not wasted or worn. That is to say, this kind of relationship doesn't squander vital energy, but exactly the opposite, since each partner is more revitalized through the act of making love.

If you project this psychic energy toward someone you love and have full confidence in him/her, then that energy is strengthened, exalted and sublimated. In that way, your increased vital energy will allow you to have a clearer conscience.

It is very important for you to have an active sexual or physical relationship now, but also consider that it is essential to have psychological understanding with your mate as well as self-realization. You want to devote long periods of time to intense communication with your companion, since you have a need to exchange experiences, share your life together, poll your every day life, understand him/her better psychologically as well as to understand yourself better and, in fact, to perfect yourself.

Obviously self-realization is something personal, but it can be accelerated and intensified when each partner is committed to conscientiously improve his/her personality and impels the other to self-understanding. This is what designates real "sexual alchemy", according to which the sexual process is something that occurs on three different levels: physical, emotional and mental. This is the real concept of sexuality, the word derived from "six", that is to say, physical - emotional - mental of the man added to the physical - emotional - mental of the woman. A real sexual contact is produced on those three levels, and this is a good astrological aspect to begin understanding that kind of living together.

Feb 3, 2010 3 AM (Feb 2, 2010 to Feb 4, 2010) Ven Sqr Ven

VENUS SQUARE VENUS

INTENSITY: 1

During this short time of the disharmonious aspect of transiting Venus to Venus your feelings will be intense, but certainly a bit superfluous. It is important to care about forms but, obviously, love cannot be sustained only by extraneous details, more or less fancy gestures, gifts or painstaking care of the personal image. We have to understand, be connected and establish firm bridges between two individuals that by nature are different.

If you are in a period of courtship, don't think that by simply maintaining an apparently harmonious, fun and happy keynote during this phase guarantees that the future relationship will endure in time. There has to be a fundamental understanding between you, and not only the illusion of having a good time, going dancing or enjoying yourselves with friends.

Equally, if you are in a stable relationship such as marriage, you will be enthused to enjoy yourself, to relax, squander your energy and indulge in intensive leisure, all of which could lead to a certain vacuum sensation upon recapturing your daily responsibilities. You have to find a way to use your spare time for the most creative leisure, for example culture, sports, deep communication with your mate or, simply, seeking the most remote intimacy from the mundane noise.

Obviously, the dynamics of a holiday or spree could be a release of energy after a phase of stress. However, this is not the standard ideal for channeling your free time. Procure to plan the details for some activities with your mate for the weekend or your vacation.

As a rule, it is advisable to moderate your sensuous manifestations and to remember that in love it is not advantageous "to be impatient and expect things to happen" in two or three days. If you are especially euphoric or want things to go well, temper your spirits and extend the moments, and you will find that even when everything is going along well one must have serenity. It is necessary to be relaxed in order to enjoy things and people. If there is too much excitement, the instants and experiences rendered are volatile, passing and not satisfying.

SUN TRINE MOON

This is a good time to strengthen family relationships and the ties with your loved ones. During this period you see things more from an emotional point of view and your psyche now is able to surpass the susceptibilities, including those bound to family situations of the past. This is an auspicious time to be sincere, noble and open with the people most dear to you. It is well known that family relationships rarely are a bed of roses, since generally always one thorn or another emerges. Precisely, this astrological aspect can motivate you to approach and be reconciled with someone, with whom you previously had certain tension. This aspect almost guarantees success, since you are now above misunderstandings and mistakes of the past.

If you are married or have children, it is a good time to guarantee your personal individual integration with your family environment, living the fact that "the personal path of evolution starts in the family". You see that by emitting noble energies, the energies returned to you are also of high and protective character. It is a good time to try and make your household a bright spot, full of warmth, conscience and protection. At least, at this time it is very clear to you that even attempting it is worth the trouble, and that success can be achieved with a little effort.

You are sure of your feelings and the fondness of your loved ones, and because of this, deeply impress the people you love. It is neither more nor less than what is visible, and what is real, noble and high always grows and fructifies. In this case, you plant the seeds of delivery, sacrifice and nobility, and the fruit thereafter will be creative and full of deep emotional experiences. That is to say, if you show your emotions openly to your loved ones, your fondest dreams will be fulfilled, since they will reciprocate in the same way.

This aspect is of short duration and doesn't have too much strength, though it can be potent if it is used in a conscious way.

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Venus brings an increase in your sensuous vital energy, which can incline you to certain excesses. For example, you now could feel a great desire for amusement and expansion, and may even want to escape from your daily grind going to a dance with your mate, dining out, going to a club, or preparing an exceptional weekend. Obviously, there is nothing wrong with it in general, unless these kind of activities are carried to excess. It isn't so much the fact of wanting to live well, but rather to control yourself and stay within your means. If you are not careful, the following weeks could be a narrow squeeze of money, since you over spent on details, gifts or outings to such a degree that you actually are left without anything in the budget for the rest of the month. Don't give so much importance to the size or quantity of your entertainments, since a simple gift in a given moment can have great sentimental value.

Avoid an egocentric, superior and arrogant attitude toward your mate. Perhaps now you are very proud of something you have obtained on a social or professional level, or even are proud of your own companion, but you should never have a capricious or egocentric attitude. Learn to control your abundant energy and you will find that with simplicity, sincerity and nobility big improvements are brought about in your partnership. Learn to speak but also listen, give advice and also think about the advice given to you, in fact, learn to find the right balance between you and your loved one. Neither of you should impose your points of view on the other, but share the decisions and enjoy the responsibilities that both of you have every day. Don't ever think that you are going faster than your companion, since it is necessary that both of you go hand in hand, jointly experiencing the new encounters that are opened to you each day.

At this time you may also be especially proud of your mate and may want to show him/her off socially so that everyone can see that you are the "perfect couple". Although this is not negative in general, it isn't bad either to be unnoticed from time to time and to intermingle with others without creating so much attention. It may boost your ego when others remark about you, but it also has its disadvantages since, whether you like it or not, there always will be a certain amount of criticism.

Desire is an innate and natural inclination in human beings and, if it is accompanied by emotions and higher thoughts, constitutes the basis for greater happiness and personal development. It is important that the desire always will be an instrument of the personality, and not the other way around, since in this case sooner or later dissatisfaction is produced. Thus, if you allow yourself to be controlled by the instinct of pleasure, you won't have the ability to relax, to enjoy yourself and expand the relationship with your mate. During the days of this aspect your psychological state probably will fluctuate from the height of superficial happiness to extreme melancholia and a sense of isolation. In reality, there are two kinds of vibrations that prevent you from maintaining an even course, but are continually tilting from one extreme to the other. It is advisable to take some time for personal reflection, thinking about your more recent affectionate or sentimental experiences, before reacting or acting without previous contemplation. Now is the time to look deeper into your real psyche, avoiding at all cost to express your feelings outwardly without having sufficiently worked out what comes from within.

If you are sensitive or affected by the reaction of a relative, a friend, a loved one or even your mate, above all control your imagination, otherwise you run the risk of making a mountain out of a mole hill. Don't evade the situations or people responsible for your sensitivity, but simply reflect on the real meaning of that experience and how to respond to it. Either way, after calming yourself and having reflected you think that your loved one has made a mistake, it is advisable to outline everything smoothly and objectively without getting too personal.

You won't go from a feeling of joy to melancholia very easily, since you are not living in a fairy tale nor in a valley of tears. Find a balance between your family responsibilities and your need for entertainment, amuse yourself and relax a while. If you are involved in a love relationship now, see to it that it will be as harmonious as possible with your family to avoid small irritations or sensitivities in the future.

This aspect symbolizes the possibility of a small irritation or conflict of little importance in your love relationship. Perhaps subconsciously something has been growing between you that has not been dealt with, come to light or outlined in a direct and respectful way. Now is the time to review possible latent issues between you, such as jealousy, secret sensitivities or egotistic attitudes of one with respect to the other. Don't forget that in love relationships there has to be revitalization from day to day that should not be neglected, but is advisable to maintain continual attention and concentration. Learn to share the achievements that each of you may have accomplished, talk about the psychological imperfections that still are within you and have not yet been surpassed, in fact, summarize your psyche in an earthly way. It is not the time to conceal anything, but rather to recognize your own limitations and making goals to surpass them. Sharing your limitations with your loved one will help you gain more strength to tackle the task.

You will also notice an increase in your sexual energy during the time of this astrological aspect, but at given times it could be expressed abruptly and vacillating. A satisfying sexual relationship requires self-control, commitment and desire. True love is accompanied by higher qualities such as the above mentioned. Don't forget that a sexual relationship is brought about simultaneously on the physical as well as the emotional and mental level. The physical vitality must be accompanied by the feeling of sincerity and intense communication so that the spark of real love can be produced.

Avoid superior or arrogant attitudes in your love relationship and practice sincere communication every day. Don't accumulate anything or keep anything for tomorrow. If you believe that your mate has failed in some way, first meditate on it and when you are completely calm, show respect and confidence in your companion. By continuing this method you will find that a good quality of communication is established, and the results will be seen by you alone. It is always preferable to quietly become aware of the situation before accusing each other without reason and common sense. Don't allow anything to alter the confidence in your mate, since this is the basis on which a stable and fulfilling relationship is sustained. Neither of you are perfect, and that is what makes your adventure more interesting.

SUN OPPOSITION MOON

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Moon doesn't have too much strength, but can be used to amend certain imbalances in your family relationships. Fundamentally, you tend to go to opposite extremes and find it hard to stay on the middle ground. In the first place, at given times you are inclined to be too individualistic, arrogant and self-sufficient in your family relationships. You tend to impose your own points of view and do it in a certain shaky, capricious way according to your emotional state at the moment in question. In other cases you will be inclined to the opposite extreme, that is to say, to be attached and to depend too much on what could be called the "family warmth". In this case you prefer to depend on the family unit before venturing out and solving your own problems.

Briefly, it is necessary to learn how to achieve the right balance concerning your family relationships and emotional affections, neither trying to be the center of the family, nor intending that your loved ones solve your problems for you. This certainly is a difficult road that requires personal security, self-discipline and self-understanding. It is necessary to give in order to receive, which is a simple rule and very practical in regard to family relationships. That is to say, if you are stronger, you will be able to contribute more to your family, which also will be strengthened and at the same time will have more ability to protect you. In other words, the more the family unit is strengthened, the more your integration will be strengthened. Increase your personal security, project that personal security to your family, and you will find that your family relationships improve notably. In that way you are going to be admired, understood and taken into account thanks to your personal securities.

This is a privileged and excellent time for love; if you haven't found it yet, now could be the moment you have been waiting for. If you are not involved with anyone, you probably will find the person that you had idealized previously, but unfortunately had not been able to find until this time. At some cultural or social event, or on a trip you may meet someone especially important to you that will give you new desire for living and expanding.

If you are engaged already and have decided to get married, this period can be especially auspicious to do it, since you will find the social, family and economic support to take that step. If you are married, it is the ideal time to plan a trip, which could be a second honeymoon, or unaffectedly, it will increase your level of happiness in your conjugal relationship.

Now you are impelled to enjoy your spare time, the weekend and periods of vacation with your mate, attending cultural or social events, practicing creative leisure, and in fact, revitalizing your energy with vibrant and fresh experiences. You are likely to meet many new people, have access to wider social circles, enjoy good meals, beauty, refined sensuous pleasures and assorted human relationships. All this will produce greater optimism and happiness in your general position about life; that is to say, you will see things more positively and that feeling of inner fulfillment will help you to expand more in your daily life. It isn't solely the fact that you are going to amuse yourself more, but you will learn to re-create, that is to say, to act, think and feel more openly. Thus, the energy you invest in your work will return on itself, generating greater motivation and desire to work on what had been proposed.

Fundamentally, you perceive the positive things in your life, generating renewed mental and psychic waves, expansion, idealism and "fascination" with life.

This astrological aspect also increases your personal vitality, and your sensuous capacity will be especially energized. It will be very important to you to surround the event of love with details of good taste, harmony and aesthetics. You are confirming that good taste is fundamental in the development of superior love, the same is true with art. It is not only important to have a clear idea to express art, but also to know how to express it defined, inspirational and in the right form. The same is true with love, where the feelings are fundamental, just like the ways and the environment in which it is expressed.

VENUS OPPOSITION VENUS

INTENSITY: ○

During this short time of the disharmonious aspect of transiting Venus to Venus your feelings will be intense, but certainly a bit superfluous. It is important to care about forms but, obviously, love cannot be sustained only by extraneous details, more or less fancy gestures, gifts or painstaking care of the personal image. We have to understand, be connected and establish firm bridges between two individuals that by nature are different.

If you are in a period of courtship, don't think that by simply maintaining an apparently harmonious, fun and happy keynote during this phase guarantees that the future relationship will endure in time. There has to be a fundamental understanding between you, and not only the illusion of having a good time, going dancing or enjoying yourselves with friends.

Equally, if you are in a stable relationship such as marriage, you will be enthused to enjoy yourself, to relax, squander your energy and indulge in intensive leisure, all of which could lead to a certain vacuum sensation upon recapturing your daily responsibilities. You have to find a way to use your spare time for the most creative leisure, for example culture, sports, deep communication with your mate or, simply, seeking the most remote intimacy from the mundane noise.

Obviously, the dynamics of a holiday or spree could be a release of energy after a phase of stress. However, this is not the standard ideal for channeling your free time. Procure to plan the details for some activities with your mate for the weekend or your vacation.

As a rule, it is advisable to moderate your sensuous manifestations and to remember that in love it is not advantageous "to be impatient and expect things to happen" in two or three days. If you are especially euphoric or want things to go well, temper your spirits and extend the moments, and you will find that even when everything is going along well one must have serenity. It is necessary to be relaxed in order to enjoy things and people. If there is too much excitement, the instants and experiences rendered are volatile, passing and not satisfying.

This harmonious aspect of transiting Mars to Pluto generates an increase of your sexual and vital energy. Sexual energy is bound to self-confidence, which increases your total energy and personal magnetism during this period. It is a good time to deepen the interrelationship that exists between managing sexual energy and total vital energy. Sexual energy is a manifestation of total vital energy, and when sexual energy is used adequately, vital energy is increased. If you now have a satisfying sexual life you will observe that your personal energy will increase. Briefly, real sexuality does not consist of squandering your own energy, but exchanging it in an act in which psychological penetration, confidence and understanding with your mate exists. Thus, when mutual confidence and respect exists, sexual energy is exchanged and not wasted or worn. That is to say, this kind of relationship doesn't squander vital energy, but exactly the opposite, since each partner is more revitalized through the act of making love.

If you project this psychic energy toward someone you love and have full confidence in him/her, then that energy is strengthened, exalted and sublimated. In that way, your increased vital energy will allow you to have a clearer conscience.

It is very important for you to have an active sexual or physical relationship now, but also consider that it is essential to have psychological understanding with your mate as well as self-realization. You want to devote long periods of time to intense communication with your companion, since you have a need to exchange experiences, share your life together, poll your every day life, understand him/her better psychologically as well as to understand yourself better and, in fact, to perfect yourself.

Obviously self-realization is something personal, but it can be accelerated and intensified when each partner is committed to conscientiously improve his/her personality and impels the other to self-understanding. This is what designates real "sexual alchemy", according to which the sexual process is something that occurs on three different levels: physical, emotional and mental. This is the real concept of sexuality, the word derived from "six", that is to say, physical - emotional - mental of the man added to the physical - emotional - mental of the woman. A real sexual contact is produced on those three levels, and this is a good astrological aspect to begin understanding that kind of living together.

This astrological aspect lasts only a few days, but on occasion it's effect can be felt in a palpable way. Your sensuality and your ability to love are increased now, making you more intense with greater depth and creative energy. It is a personal cycle that can serve you to intensively fuse with your mate.

If you currently are not involved with anyone, use this period to become aware of your creative potential and get to know yourself better. Your personal security will attract the opposite sex, and there is a possibility of someone becoming interested in you. In this case, try to be selective at the time of choosing a companion, since it is preferable to be alone rather than making the wrong choice. Remember that nobody is pushing you to get a mate quickly. Without a doubt, it can be said that quality is worth more than quantity. If you pass this short and intensive cycle in solitary, become fully aware of yourself as an independent and creative individual.

A harmonious aspect of Venus to Pluto is a small step toward ascending the height of sexual alchemy, which is based on the progressive increase of sexual energy as well as control over it. Uncontrolled sexuality is precisely the opposite of happiness and fulfillment in the relationship of a couple. On the other hand, high and conscious sexuality inclines to personal self-realization and complete satisfaction in the relationship.

It is a good time to live, study and practice total integration in your affectionate relationship, where the body, the psyche and the mind collaborate toward the same end: fusion, and as a result evolution. Enjoy yourself intensely and become aware of each instant, since true love is bound to the full awareness of each act, each gesture, each feeling and each thought.

A harmonious aspect between Venus and Moon indicates the escalation of your personal romanticism. Your imagination is intensified now, especially, since your surroundings provide a stimuli and small daily events that make you agreeable and merry. In this respect, you could receive a gift, a call, have a special meaningful encounter, or simply will observe that some of your loved ones respond to you in a vibrant, cozy and warm way. During this short period of time, there is harmony between your need to be open, amused and loved on one hand, and your family responsibilities or relationship to your parents on the other hand. Thus, if you are involved in a love relationship now, you will find that the interrelationship will be more and better accepted by your family.

Everything mentioned, without a doubt, will bring greater inner emotional balance and promote some very important and satisfactory relationships with people of your emotional and family environment. You are especially receptive to the feelings and emotional states of other people, which increases your capacity of intense psychic communication with your loved ones or those you protect.

Your feelings are fine and pure now, and at the same time you will want contact with beauty, amusement, aesthetics and art as way of releasing your creative inspiration.

During the time of this aspect it is advisable to acquire a greater vision of the positive elements that sentimentally are forming part of your life; thus, if you give inner thanks for the good things happening to you, it is very probable that they are expanded and magnified. Don't concentrate on things you lack or would like to possess emotionally, it would be preferable to put your psyche on positive things and what is good for your family and sentimental relationships. In some way, perfection in human relationships is impossible.

This harmonious astrological aspect energizes your emotions. That is to say, you will feel more competent to express your mental and emotional states in an open way, which causes you to be more direct and spontaneous in your sentimental relationships and, especially, with your family. If you usually are shy, it is a good time to exercise emotional advantage, self-confidence and direct expression of your emotional states.

As a rule, you will be more inclined to define circumstances, to participate actively, to decide and take part in family problems. In other words, you will prefer to take part in family decisions, and in that way try to improve conditions in your family, or solve problems that have been delayed or stagnant for some time. You never will avoid your part of responsibility that touches the dynamics of your family.

You now will be more sure of yourself psychologically, and what is very important, you are not attached to or stopped by people in your family environment. You prefer to devote part of your energies, your time and your effort to improve the dynamics of your family, have family gatherings from time to time to talk over your problems, or simply to pass the time. Thus, your personal self-esteem is increased, making you a very useful person prejudiced toward evolution and change, which will not bring states of emotional susceptibility or evasion. You prefer to sweeten the circumstances with motivation, facts, and fruit, rather than to attempt to adorn them, to defer them, or simply to delay them.

Sincerity and spontaneity in your emotional manifestations are essential for you now. You prefer to vent any possible resentment, hurt feelings or misunderstandings immediately. If there is something that concerns you or that doesn't seem right in your emotional relationships, you will try to clear the air quickly and without any dubiousness.

Briefly, you are going to express yourself with clear, direct and defined emotions, knowing how to combine your personal freedom with your responsibility toward your family or loved ones. All in all, it will be a phase in which your emotional and psychic experiences will be enriched, conscious, filled with life and very vital.

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Venus brings an increase in your sensuous vital energy, which can incline you to certain excesses. For example, you now could feel a great desire for amusement and expansion, and may even want to escape from your daily grind going to a dance with your mate, dining out, going to a club, or preparing an exceptional weekend. Obviously, there is nothing wrong with it in general, unless these kind of activities are carried to excess. It isn't so much the fact of wanting to live well, but rather to control yourself and stay within your means. If you are not careful, the following weeks could be a narrow squeeze of money, since you over spent on details, gifts or outings to such a degree that you actually are left without anything in the budget for the rest of the month. Don't give so much importance to the size or quantity of your entertainments, since a simple gift in a given moment can have great sentimental value.

Avoid an egocentric, superior and arrogant attitude toward your mate. Perhaps now you are very proud of something you have obtained on a social or professional level, or even are proud of your own companion, but you should never have a capricious or egocentric attitude. Learn to control your abundant energy and you will find that with simplicity, sincerity and nobility big improvements are brought about in your partnership. Learn to speak but also listen, give advice and also think about the advice given to you, in fact, learn to find the right balance between you and your loved one. Neither of you should impose your points of view on the other, but share the decisions and enjoy the responsibilities that both of you have every day. Don't ever think that you are going faster than your companion, since it is necessary that both of you go hand in hand, jointly experiencing the new encounters that are opened to you each day.

At this time you may also be especially proud of your mate and may want to show him/her off socially so that everyone can see that you are the "perfect couple". Although this is not negative in general, it isn't bad either to be unnoticed from time to time and to intermingle with others without creating so much attention. It may boost your ego when others remark about you, but it also has it's disadvantages since, whether you like it or not, there always will be a certain amount of criticism.

This astrological aspect increases your sensuous and affectionate energy. Thus, you will be impelled to express your emotions spontaneously, direct and on occasions a bit sharp. In love it is not only necessary to want much, but also to want well, therefore it is recommendable to moderate and soothe your emotional reactions. Don't forget that in the relationship of a couple the aesthetic details, refinement and good taste is also important. Declare your love for your companion in a sweet, respectful and comprehensive way, as too much passion could bring jealousy. Passionate love is one thing and another very different thing is loving passionately, and it is necessary to establish a boundary between one and the other. Not going directly to the point will be a little more romantic, gallant, amiable and genteel.

If you are not involved with anyone, this could be a time when you are enamoured quickly and may approach someone that is attractive to you, but you may do it in a daring or untimely way. If you don't moderate your impulse, it is very probable that you may be rejected, since others will see you a bit sharp or discourteous.

Avoid egocentric attitudes and learn to share your decisions with your mate, as you now tend to act on your own without consulting your loved one beforehand. Your companion could be annoyed, because you are speeding up the pace too much in matters that actually relate to both of you. Thus, there could be a case in which you launched some initiative without having counted on him/her sufficiently. And as a consequence, your companion may be burdened with part of the work for which you are responsible. Therefore both of you should jointly plan the next steps you are going to take, which should not be seen as a loss of your own decisive capacity. Rather, exactly the opposite, since deciding jointly will suppose greater wisdom at the time of carrying out your plan of action. Your mate will help you to be more moderate, balanced and equitable, which, without a doubt, will increase your possibilities of success. This conciliation of objectives between both of you will make you happier as a couple and, at the same time, each of you will be more successful in your family, profession and, as a rule, in the every day world.

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Venus to Pluto brings an increase of your sensuous vital energies. This means that your affections will be accentuated during the time of this astrological aspect. An increase of your personal energy level in principle is of neutral character, that is to say, neither harmonious nor disharmonious, since this depends a great deal on your will. A disharmonious astrological aspect, without a doubt, could incline you to express that energy in an unbalanced way or against your natural character. That is to say, your affectionate energy could have psychological manifestations of a disharmonious character, such as jealousy, excessive attachment to your loved one, or trying to impose your whims on your mate by more or less subtle methods. It is advisable to become aware of this and to control certain instinctive tendencies that now could emerge. Remember that happiness in your relationship, the integration with your loved one, and your personal accomplishment depends a great deal on the respect you have for yourself and each other. Avoid capricious, disrespectful or out of place reactions, and try to amend this kind of conduct and extreme attitudes, always cultivating a moderate and balanced behavior.

Desire is an innate and natural inclination in human beings and, if it is accompanied by emotions and higher thoughts, constitutes the basis for greater happiness and personal development. It is important that the desire always will be an instrument of the personality, and not the other way around, since in this case sooner or later dissatisfaction is produced. Thus, if you allow yourself to be controlled by the instinct of pleasure, you won't have the ability to relax, to enjoy yourself and expand the relationship with your mate. Rather, a vacuum sensation exists upon channeling personal sensuous energies only toward physical pleasure.

You have to learn to relax, to take your time, and to give your sensuous appetites a creative impulse, which neither more nor less is the basis of total sexuality.

You will be fully aware of the effect of love and of each instant in the interrelationship with your partner. Moments like this cannot be repeated and, without a doubt, constitute a great opportunity to develop and improve your own psychological qualities. Sexuality is not only a release of energy, but to understand yourself through exchange with the other. The act of love is an event of self-understanding and personal self-realization.

This is a good time to openly express your feelings so that you will be totally sincere with yourself and with your loved one. Sharing is being open to new realities, and opening up is necessary for a confident and respectful environment. Putting these qualities into practice will prove that boredom and monotony do not exist in real love. There always is something new to experience, to communicate and to put into practice. Sexuality should not wear out your energy, but release, expand, revitalize and recover your personal strength. This is a good way of finding out if the relationship works correctly, since "nothing is created, nothing is destroyed and all is transformed". Thus, the integral act of love must result in the revitalization of both partners on the physical as well as the emotional and mental levels. As a rule, when someone is tired, it is because you are not achieving an energy circuit adapted to the environment. On the other hand, when someone is revitalized, it is because you readily tune into others, and in this case, your partner.

Talk about your improvements since you were together, comment on the psychological deficiencies you have surpassed, and bring to light those that still need a bit of polishing. This sincere exchange produces great results and deepens your level of communication.

A harmonious aspect between Venus and Moon indicates the escalation of your personal romanticism. Your imagination is intensified now, especially, since your surroundings provide a stimuli and small daily events that make you agreeable and merry. In this respect, you could receive a gift, a call, have a special meaningful encounter, or simply will observe that some of your loved ones respond to you in a vibrant, cozy and warm way. During this short period of time, there is harmony between your need to be open, amused and loved on one hand, and your family responsibilities or relationship to your parents on the other hand. Thus, if you are involved in a love relationship now, you will find that the interrelationship will be more and better accepted by your family.

Everything mentioned, without a doubt, will bring greater inner emotional balance and promote some very important and satisfactory relationships with people of your emotional and family environment. You are especially receptive to the feelings and emotional states of other people, which increases your capacity of intense psychic communication with your loved ones or those you protect.

Your feelings are fine and pure now, and at the same time you will want contact with beauty, amusement, aesthetics and art as way of releasing your creative inspiration.

During the time of this aspect it is advisable to acquire a greater vision of the positive elements that sentimentally are forming part of your life; thus, if you give inner thanks for the good things happening to you, it is very probable that they are expanded and magnified. Don't concentrate on things you lack or would like to possess emotionally, it would be preferable to put your psyche on positive things and what is good for your family and sentimental relationships. In some way, perfection in human relationships is impossible.

This aspect symbolizes the possibility of a small irritation or conflict of little importance in your love relationship. Perhaps subconsciously something has been growing between you that has not been dealt with, come to light or outlined in a direct and respectful way. Now is the time to review possible latent issues between you, such as jealousy, secret sensitivities or egotistic attitudes of one with respect to the other. Don't forget that in love relationships there has to be revitalization from day to day that should not be neglected, but is advisable to maintain continual attention and concentration. Learn to share the achievements that each of you may have accomplished, talk about the psychological imperfections that still are within you and have not yet been surpassed, in fact, summarize your psyche in an earthly way. It is not the time to conceal anything, but rather to recognize your own limitations and making goals to surpass them. Sharing your limitations with your loved one will help you gain more strength to tackle the task.

You will also notice an increase in your sexual energy during the time of this astrological aspect, but at given times it could be expressed abruptly and vacillating. A satisfying sexual relationship requires self-control, commitment and desire. True love is accompanied by higher qualities such as the above mentioned. Don't forget that a sexual relationship is brought about simultaneously on the physical as well as the emotional and mental level. The physical vitality must be accompanied by the feeling of sincerity and intense communication so that the spark of real love can be produced.

Avoid superior or arrogant attitudes in your love relationship and practice sincere communication every day. Don't accumulate anything or keep anything for tomorrow. If you believe that your mate has failed in some way, first meditate on it and when you are completely calm, show respect and confidence in your companion. By continuing this method you will find that a good quality of communication is established, and the results will be seen by you alone. It is always preferable to quietly become aware of the situation before accusing each other without reason and common sense. Don't allow anything to alter the confidence in your mate, since this is the basis on which a stable and fulfilling relationship is sustained. Neither of you are perfect, and that is what makes your adventure more interesting.

During this short time of the disharmonious aspect of transiting Venus to Venus your feelings will be intense, but certainly a bit superfluous. It is important to care about forms but, obviously, love cannot be sustained only by extraneous details, more or less fancy gestures, gifts or painstaking care of the personal image. We have to understand, be connected and establish firm bridges between two individuals that by nature are different.

If you are in a period of courtship, don't think that by simply maintaining an apparently harmonious, fun and happy keynote during this phase guarantees that the future relationship will endure in time. There has to be a fundamental understanding between you, and not only the illusion of having a good time, going dancing or enjoying yourselves with friends.

Equally, if you are in a stable relationship such as marriage, you will be enthused to enjoy yourself, to relax, squander your energy and indulge in intensive leisure, all of which could lead to a certain vacuum sensation upon recapturing your daily responsibilities. You have to find a way to use your spare time for the most creative leisure, for example culture, sports, deep communication with your mate or, simply, seeking the most remote intimacy from the mundane noise.

Obviously, the dynamics of a holiday or spree could be a release of energy after a phase of stress. However, this is not the standard ideal for channeling your free time. Procure to plan the details for some activities with your mate for the weekend or your vacation.

As a rule, it is advisable to moderate your sensuous manifestations and to remember that in love it is not advantageous "to be impatient and expect things to happen" in two or three days. If you are especially euphoric or want things to go well, temper your spirits and extend the moments, and you will find that even when everything is going along well one must have serenity. It is necessary to be relaxed in order to enjoy things and people. If there is too much excitement, the instants and experiences rendered are volatile, passing and not satisfying.

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Moon doesn't have too much strength, but can be used to amend certain imbalances in your family relationships. Fundamentally, you tend to go to opposite extremes and find it hard to stay on the middle ground. In the first place, at given times you are inclined to be too individualistic, arrogant and self-sufficient in your family relationships. You tend to impose your own points of view and do it in a certain shaky, capricious way according to your emotional state at the moment in question. In other cases you will be inclined to the opposite extreme, that is to say, to be attached and to depend too much on what could be called the "family warmth". In this case you prefer to depend on the family unit before venturing out and solving your own problems.

Briefly, it is necessary to learn how to achieve the right balance concerning your family relationships and emotional affections, neither trying to be the center of the family, nor intending that your loved ones solve your problems for you. This certainly is a difficult road that requires personal security, self-discipline and self-understanding. It is necessary to give in order to receive, which is a simple rule and very practical in regard to family relationships. That is to say, if you are stronger, you will be able to contribute more to your family, which also will be strengthened and at the same time will have more ability to protect you. In other words, the more the family unit is strengthened, the more your integration will be strengthened. Increase your personal security, project that personal security to your family, and you will find that your family relationships improve notably. In that way you are going to be admired, understood and taken into account thanks to your personal securities.

During the time of this harmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Venus your sensuous and affectionate feelings will be accentuated, that is to say, will be expressed clearly; without shyness, disguise or any complex. You now are sure of your feelings and need to revitalize them by sharing them openly with your mate. There is a better understanding between you and your loved one, since you experience that through your love relationship your own personal limits are transcended.

If you are in love with someone and up until now have not expressed your feelings, it probably would be a good time to do it, provided that you are sure and know for certain that your selection is right. If you already have someone or are married, use this chance to reaffirm your love for them, since that revitalizes the feelings for both of you.

What makes your love relationship more attractive now is that you are sure within yourself, which is not being attached or dependent on your mate, or searching for energies that you may lack; on the contrary, you radiate energy and want to share it with the person you love.

There is a possibility of making a good social contact, or entering a higher circle thanks to the prestige of your mate or partner. The harmonious influence of the Sun can bring a small social rise or personal prestige in your life, to a degree thanks to the harmonious influence you are having and in that sense your companion.

A harmonious aspect of transiting Mars to Venus activates your emotional, sensuous and affectionate energy. The relationship to your mate will be especially vital. You may want to expand, enjoy, entertain and intensify your emotional communication. In general, you will feel more sure of expressing your emotions and addressing your relationship to your mate. Thus, the decisions you make will be supported and applauded by your companion, provided that you outline them in an agreeable, exonerating and balanced way. Take the good advice of your loved one now. Upon making decisions jointly you will benefit in all kinds of activities, such as professional, economic or of any other nature. Your mate will tend to moderate, calm down, balance and perfect the ideas and initiatives that now are buzzing around in your head. This daily sincere exchange at the time of making decisions will enormously strengthen the confidence between both of you. Everything will be going along well and you will prove that as a couple you are very capable of resolving matters of great importance as well as daily things.

Sensually, you now tend to be very passionate, spontaneous and ardent in the manifestation of your emotions, which will increase the level of energy exchange between you and your companion. This generates greater inner security in you as well as your partner and greater ability to contend with the daily circumstances. Furthermore, as time goes on you will know how to better combine the responsibilities that each of you have from day to day, on one hand, and times of leisure and expansion, on the other hand.

Briefly, you are likely to have new and intensive experiences in relationship to your mate, which will give you opportunities to develop delivery, intensity, sacrifice and nobility. It is very probable that you now crave fresh air, a trip or sports activity with your companion to create the feeling of being immersed in an adventurous environment. Without a doubt, the greatest adventure you will have together is that of your own life, since sharing determination, projects, ideals and accomplishments will bring vibrant and emotional experiences that you will remember forever. You will also have opportunities for creative leisures, enjoying new surroundings, and very fulfilling periods, weekends or a vacation for both of you.

Your sensuality is accentuated and you could have an especially happy and satisfying experience at this time. Fundamentally, it constitutes a "confirmation" of love, since, if the selection of your mate has been right, you now are going to obtain sufficient proof about your selection. Thus, you will note that the other person actually wants you and needs you, which, without a doubt, will generate a juvenile and refreshing sensation in you.

Obviously, this is not an astrological aspect of great strength that coincides with one or two details that are consciously noticeable -evidently one must wait for big events. Above all, it means enjoying what you have and coming a step closer toward the harmonization between you and your loved one. Express your love with naturalness and you will find that this simple act will rebound immediately. Be guided more or less by the fact that "when you give you shall receive". Express your love subtly and make use of aesthetic details of beautiful character, as the Venusian vibration is related to art, harmony, good taste and the right mood, all of which improve and extol the act of love.

Enjoy any moment of happiness that you could have now and you will see that happiness attracts happiness and what is high is integrated with the high. Understand, live and experience love as something that is simultaneously produced on several levels, that is to say, in the physical dominance as well as the emotional, mental and spiritual. The more global and total your idea and vivacity of love will be, the greater the importance of the experiences in your life will be.

At this time your sexuality and total vital energy will be revitalized and must be released through a creative exchange. You will be fully aware of the effect of love and of each instant in the interrelationship with your partner. Moments like this cannot be repeated and, without a doubt, constitute a great opportunity to develop and improve your own psychological qualities. Sexuality is not only a release of energy, but to understand yourself through exchange with the other. The act of love is an event of self-understanding and personal self-realization.

This is a good time to openly express your feelings so that you will be totally sincere with yourself and with your loved one. Sharing is being open to new realities, and opening up is necessary for a confident and respectful environment. Putting these qualities into practice will prove that boredom and monotony do not exist in real love. There always is something new to experience, to communicate and to put into practice. Sexuality should not wear out your energy, but release, expand, revitalize and recover your personal strength. This is a good way of finding out if the relationship works correctly, since "nothing is created, nothing is destroyed and all is transformed". Thus, the integral act of love must result in the revitalization of both partners on the physical as well as the emotional and mental levels. As a rule, when someone is tired, it is because you are not achieving an energy circuit adapted to the environment. On the other hand, when someone is revitalized, it is because you readily tune into others, and in this case, your partner.

Talk about your improvements since you were together, comment on the psychological deficiencies you have surpassed, and bring to light those that still need a bit of polishing. This sincere exchange produces great results and deepens your level of communication.

This is a good time to strengthen family relationships and the ties with your loved ones. During this period you see things more from an emotional point of view and your psyche now is able to surpass the susceptibilities, including those bound to family situations of the past. This is an auspicious time to be sincere, noble and open with the people most dear to you. It is well known that family relationships rarely are a bed of roses, since generally always one thorn or another emerges. Precisely, this astrological aspect can motivate you to approach and be reconciled with someone, with whom you previously had certain tension. This aspect almost guarantees success, since you are now above misunderstandings and mistakes of the past.

If you are married or have children, it is a good time to guarantee your personal individual integration with your family environment, living the fact that "the personal path of evolution starts in the family". You see that by emitting noble energies, the energies returned to you are also of high and protective character. It is a good time to try and make your household a bright spot, full of warmth, conscience and protection. At least, at this time it is very clear to you that even attempting it is worth the trouble, and that success can be achieved with a little effort.

You are sure of your feelings and the fondness of your loved ones, and because of this, deeply impress the people you love. It is neither more nor less than what is visible, and what is real, noble and high always grows and fructifies. In this case, you plant the seeds of delivery, sacrifice and nobility, and the fruit thereafter will be creative and full of deep emotional experiences. That is to say, if you show your emotions openly to your loved ones, your fondest dreams will be fulfilled, since they will reciprocate in the same way.

This aspect is of short duration and doesn't have too much strength, though it can be potent if it is used in a conscious way.

MARS CONJUNCT PLUTO

INTENSITY: 3

A conjunction of transiting Mars to Pluto increases your vital energy. Sexual energy is one of the manifestations of total vital energy of the human being, and there is a direct relationship between the level of one person and another. Now is the time to become aware of your feelings, desires and sensations of sensual character, so you will be able to give the right, adequate and creative outlet to those impulses.

Understand that being together sexually is an experience that takes shape on three different levels (physical, emotional and mental). Thus, the word sexuality is derived from the root sex (six), referring to the sum of physical - emotional - mental of the man and physical - emotional - mental of the woman. Real sexuality is a process that occurs simultaneously on those three levels and should energize the physical as well as the emotional and mental energy.

If a small annoyance or conflict with your mate emerges now, don't wait until later to clear the air, since everything could be exaggerated when things are accumulated. Don't hold your susceptibilities or resentments inside, it is preferable to vent small irritation from day to day. It is important to understand that real sexuality implies a change or progressive transformation of each partner. Thus, it is normal that small crisis will emerge, but if these are taken as an opportunity to improve oneself, such tests will be a springboard toward future experiences that are expanded and happier. Superior sexuality requires resigning certain disharmonious aspects of the ego, that is to say, those facets of yourself that actually can hurt you. Thus, if you are zealous, now is a good time to file these edges of your character. A deep relationship of a couple compels and motivates personal change, since you are letting go of a series of small vices or attachments that not only prejudice at an individual level, but impair the affectionate relationship as well.

You need to be comprehensive, sensitive, respectful and communicative with your mate now. If you think that your loved one has offended you in some way, irritated you or has hurt your feelings, don't dramatize things and clear things up right away. It is preferable to let your feelings flow continually, without being attached to the mistakes of the past and without holding on to the susceptibilities of the present. It is necessary to transcend, to have confidence in your loved one, and to observe as well as being observed. See love as something simple and don't complicate things simply by complicating them. Get to know your companion better and at the same time you will come to know yourself better. If both of you co-operate conscientiously facing self-realization, the results will shortly be very important.

Don't be sharp in your sensuous expressions, love also requires sensitivity and politeness as well as commitment. The vigor of physical energy has to be accompanied by delivery in the psychological and emotional dominance. And even more, in superior sexuality mental communication is equally important, since a good physical communication can not exist, if there isn't any exchange of ideas and thoughts from day to day.

SUN SQUARE VENUS

INTENSITY: 2

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Sun to Venus brings an increase in your sensuous vital energy, which can incline you to certain excesses. For example, you now could feel a great desire for amusement and expansion, and may even want to escape from your daily grind going to a dance with your mate, dining out, going to a club, or preparing an exceptional weekend. Obviously, there is nothing wrong with it in general, unless these kind of activities are carried to excess. It isn't so much the fact of wanting to live well, but rather to control yourself and stay within your means. If you are not careful, the following weeks could be a narrow squeeze of money, since you over spent on details, gifts or outings to such a degree that you actually are left without anything in the budget for the rest of the month. Don't give so much importance to the size or quantity of your entertainments, since a simple gift in a given moment can have great sentimental value.

Avoid an egocentric, superior and arrogant attitude toward your mate. Perhaps now you are very proud of something you have obtained on a social or professional level, or even are proud of your own companion, but you should never have a capricious or egocentric attitude. Learn to control your abundant energy and you will find that with simplicity, sincerity and nobility big improvements are brought about in your partnership. Learn to speak but also listen, give advice and also think about the advice given to you, in fact, learn to find the right balance between you and your loved one. Neither of you should impose your points of view on the other, but share the decisions and enjoy the responsibilities that both of you have every day. Don't ever think that you are going faster than your companion, since it is necessary that both of you go hand in hand, jointly experiencing the new encounters that are opened to you each day.

At this time you may also be especially proud of your mate and may want to show him/her off socially so that everyone can see that you are the "perfect couple". Although this is not negative in general, it isn't bad either to be unnoticed from time to time and to intermingle with others without creating so much attention. It may boost your ego when others remark about you, but it also has it's disadvantages since, whether you like it or not, there always will be a certain amount of criticism.

Aug 14, 2010 11 PM (Aug 13, 2010 to Aug 15, 2010) Ven Conj Plu

VENUS CONJUNCT PLUTO

INTENSITY: 1

A conjunction of transiting Venus and Pluto activates your sexual and sensuous energies. Because of it's powerful strength, it is advisable to become aware of it and to understand that sexual energy in reality is a specific manifestation of "total vital energy" of the human being. The wide concept of sexuality implies a connection between ourselves and the environment, specifically, an interrelationship between ourselves and others. This tuning in takes place on several levels (physical, emotional and mental). This means that complete manifestation of sexual energy requires a couple's awareness on different levels. To have a completely fulfilling sexual relationship it is necessary to complement each other physically, to have adequate emotional dynamics, a good level of intellectual communication, and a certain rapport or blending of goals and purpose in life. That it is what we understand as spiritual level.

Briefly, awareness of the abundant energies of this astrological aspect enables you to increase them and to use them creatively. These inner forces should promote self-understanding and also incline your loved one toward personal accomplishment. A sexual relationship is not fulfilling if it is bound to doubts, uncontrollable passion, deceit or lack of respect. In this case we would be speaking of declining sexual energy. An integral development of your relationship on the before mentioned levels is advisable so that at the time of the affectionate contact, an evolutionary, vital, fulfilling and uplifting spark actually is produced.

A couple's happiness depends a great deal on an adequate proportion of pleasure and self-realization, and in no way should we think that those psychological components will oppose each other, but exactly the opposite. Self-realization produces pleasure and happiness, at the same time that sensuality heals, and balance generates self-understanding and personal improvement, as well as an expansion of consciousness. After the search of pleasure that is innate in human beings, in reality there is a natural tendency to expand toward a higher kingdom of the psyche and ourselves, and this inner expansion also produces an agreeable sensation and enjoyment.

VENUS CONJUNCT MOON

A transiting aspect of Venus to your Moon represents emotional exaltation. That is to say, during the time of this transit you are going to have a great need for love, intimacy and understanding. To channel these feelings properly it is necessary to live, experience and practice that "to receive one must give". In other words, don't take on a passive attitude waiting for others to approach you and kiss you, embrace you or express that they want you.

It is necessary to avoid emotional changes, and especially, that these variations don't affect the way you treat your loved ones. If you make the mistake of reacting to them in a superfluous or capricious way, in return they obviously will hesitate to object if they have a disagreement with you. If at a given moment you happen to suffer an emotional low or an intensive high, try to exercise self-control so that those fluctuations do not affect your daily way of behavior with your family or your loved one.

This is a time when your instinct or sense of protection is manifested very explicitly. This, obviously, is not negative, provided that it isn't carried to excess by psychologically overburdening or suffocating the people you want to protect.

To psychologically relieve yourself of family responsibilities or small problems emerging in your love relationship, you have to know when to take a rest and be distracted, or take some time for leisure and relax. Sometimes you will need to enjoy these moments of distraction in solitary, while other times you prefer to be with your family or mate to clear the air. It is important to maintain an optimistic and sound mental state and, if at a given moment your emotions are overcharged, try not to let it affect your personal relationships.

Don't count on certain people that have your confidence to solve your problems. Sometimes it is preferable to clear your mind, relax and restore your balance by participating in social, artistic, sports or other types of activities. It is better to put your mind on positive things and not concentrating on your problems.

Aug 23, 2010 8 PM (Aug 22, 2010 to Aug 25, 2010) Mars Conj Moon

MARS CONJUNCT MOON

INTENSITY: 3

A conjunction of transiting Mars to Moon accentuates your emotional experiences. Assuredly, certain emotional circumstances, happenings or recollections of the past suddenly come to the surface now. That is to say, there is an acceleration of your psychological emotional experiences, which makes it necessary to exercise self-control, so that the situations and sensations are not fueled. If you are able to control this psychic flow of energy, you will gain emotional strength, stability in your spiritual state, and the ability to solve your emotional and family situations from day to day.

Basically, you are hypersensitive and may feel neglected or hurt by some emotional situations that could occur. Don't take things from a susceptible or personal point of view, since this will psychologically distort the real value that such experiences possess. More than melodramatizing, now is the time to reduce the tone, cool your emotional state, and try to see the psychic flow of your impressions more clearly. Because of this, don't make any impetuous or rash emotional decisions now. Since nothing will be agreeable to you, wait until you are calm and in a neutral emotional state to decide which course to take.

Now it may seem to you that your loved ones are pressuring you. That perception, in reality, simply is a manifestation of inner insecurity. Without apparent reason you worry that irritations or rejection in your relationships could emerge. Because of this, it is advisable to trust and be sure of your own emotional stability, and you will find that in an almost magical way the emotional and family situations are gradually stabilized. On the other hand, if you persist in hypersensitivity, psychological weariness will make it's appearance and things in your environment will begin to be left out of the main stream. Then you will feel bad and find yourself with a certain guilt complex. Briefly, if you are mature, serene, firm and respectful in your sentimental and family relationships, you will find that the response of others toward you gradually will improve in quality and level.

Don't ever think that others want to hurt your feelings, since this prejudice makes you defensive. Rather, think that your loved ones will love you now and in the future. Be clear, direct and forgiving, if you think that someone may have offended you or may have failed to respect you. Don't wait until tomorrow and expect that expressing your complaints will be clear and amiable then. Never accumulate small susceptibilities or misunderstandings for days, weeks or months, since at that time no one will have sufficient objectivity as to know what actually happened. To the contrary, your report will transmit to them an exaggerated perception of something that at that time had practically no importance. This is the principal problem of not clarifying things from day to day, since by accumulating, the inner perception is distorted with respect to reality. Apply the above advice, communicate and converse about those small misunderstandings that come up every day. You will see that the benefits are highly positive.

This transit brings an increase in your total vital energy. You will become more aware of your own psyche that up until now had been hidden. To a degree this tendency toward self-understanding is due to the relationship with your partner and can be especially intense during the period of this astrological aspect. It is possible that a small irritation emerges between you and your companion, which simply is a normal developing process of your relationship. Those small frictions serve to polish the raw diamond that both of you have within and will secure the control of your egocentric attitudes. Without a doubt, in love relationships an effort is needed to transcend the personal levels.

Love relationships require changing or modifying imperfect aspects of our character in order to awaken psychological virtues that up until now had been dormant. On certain occasions this process is accompanied by a small crisis in the relationship, but always turns out to be positive and evolutionary, if self-control is practiced.

You now could be led by instinctive behavior such as jealousy, egocentricity or superiority. If you watch yourself during those times, assuredly you will be able to correct and control them. Try to approach your companion in-depth, giving less importance to the appearance and paying more attention to the feelings, impressions and thoughts within each of you. It is advisable to enter the dynamics of mutual understanding, which means disregarding fleeting things and concentrating on what is important. Thus, you learn to share your ideal, the sense that each of you give to the other's life and your future projects.

INTENSITY: 7

This astrological aspect inclines to generate certain tests, hindrances or concerns in your sensuous relationship, but that is only the principle of a fruitful era of greater emotional and sensuous deepening. During this time you may be a bit reserved with your mate, but this will serve as notice to maintain greater dynamics of communication with your companion. If either of you has a complaint or if something about your mate bothers you, express it immediately in a respectful way. The worst you can do now is to accumulate small resentments that afterwards could develop into disagreements without a real basis. Talk about your character, your way of doing things, and the difficulties you are having at the time you don't understand each other. You are learning to take the relationship of a couple as a dynamic interrelationship between two different molds, that is to say, between two different psychological characters. If you take these small clashes of character as an opportunity to evolve and be happier in your relationship with your mate, each time you will surpass those small disagreements with greater ease and rapidity.

It is essential not to hold back, but to continually keep the communication between both of you alive, though it sometimes may require a little effort. The worst you can do now is to fall into a routine or simple satisfaction of your basic sensuous needs. It is also necessary to share your daily experiences related to your work, your family, your feelings and inner experiences. This will vitalize your relationship more and launch it toward superior levels.

You now are becoming aware of the fact that time actually matures the relationship of a couple, and that there is a direct relationship between real sexuality on one hand, and responsibility on the other. If each one is responsible for the other and observes the experiences of the other, then a very interesting balance between two poles is reached. On one hand, there is an intense relationship of the couple, and on the other, each one has the freedom to develop individually. A flow of communication between the couple serves as a preventive system so that no imaginative elements such as discontent, jealousy, or problems of passion will flourish easily. To develop an integral sexuality supposes an important opportunity to get to know yourself better and, at the same time, be in harmony with the circumstances of your mate.

If you currently are not involved with anyone and are in the process of "searching and investigating", it would be advisable to study the character of possible candidates. A passionate sexual relationship is of little worth, if the contrast between the two personalities is so strong that sparks or irritations are continually generated. It is preferable to know the person's psychological make-up a little better before committing to a sensuous relationship. When you feel that you have acquired a minimal psychological understanding with the person you are attracted to, then it will be time to deepen the relationship, but not before. Even if you have to wait a little, and are not obsessed, since quality is preferable to quantity in matters of love. Furthermore, choose someone that will be positive and optimistic, since this aspect inclines to a negative or problematic person. That is to say, there is a possibility of meeting someone with a somber character or a bit crazy. Obviously, a relationship to that person could make you suffer in the long run. Because of this, it would be wise to maintain control over your impulses until it you are sure of the kind of person you want to be related to at the deepest level.

Briefly, you now need, above all, stability, emotional security, positive changes of your character, psychological understanding with your mate, as well as living your emotions and sensuous experiences with great content.

Now your feelings of protection toward your loved ones and your interest in safeguarding your family securities are very important. You will feel motivated and responsible, and also have great influence on your family, as you sense that your acts have an important resonance in the people most dear to you. Thus, you will prove that you have certain leadership or relevancy in your family environment, and you will become more aware of your attitudes, since you understand that these affect what is called the "family unit". At the same time, this intensive relationship to the family environment is reciprocal, since you also receive an important influence from your family. It is a good time to establish the right balance between your own individuality and the people that are part of your family.

Don't carry your attachment to your loved ones to the extreme, or be tempted to impose your points of view on them. Try to stay on the middle ground, which demands important personal efforts from us, but always brings better results. You will be able to maintain your individuality and your points of view, but at the same time are open to the suggestions, advice or points of view that your family could transmit to you. Equally, collaborate actively in all those family chores that are your responsibility, but don't take on too many family obligations that would be detrimental to other facets of your personal development.

Now is a good time to reflect on the influence you received from your family throughout life, observing and stimulating the more positive aspects. If you harbor recollections that generated susceptibility, fears or small animosities in the past, you will also be able to see the positive experience that these provided. You will find that a good part of your current level of maturity is due to the way in which such experiences were absorbed. That is to say, if you allow yourself to be carried by susceptibility, the assimilating past experiences will not end; but on the other hand, if you are able to see the positive side of the family dynamics, your personal security will increase and you will be completely free of small complexities or fears generated in past eras of your life. Briefly, the family relationship will be viewed by you as something complex, but always enrich you.

This astrological aspect stimulates your affectionate and sensuous capacities, revitalizing and energizing you notably. Without a doubt, you will be more passionate, expressive and enthusiastic in your romantic relationships, but you also have to be careful so that the wealth of energy will not overflow. Take care of the small details with your loved one, as refinement, good taste and the right mood can bring your romantic relationships to a very high level. Avoid abruptness and the tendency to come to the point too directly in your emotional relationship. Give a bouquet of flowers, invite your loved one to a relaxed ride, and have a well prepared special dinner. All these aesthetic elements and good taste will make the vibration of love you are sharing subtler. Remember that during this phase all kinds of aesthetic elements will be fundamental. Because of this, your physical appearance, your good taste in dressing and your gallantry will be very important and will have great influence on your relationship.

You tend to express your emotional, affectionate and sensuous feelings direct and spontaneous now, but try not to become excessively passionate. When an affectionate and romantic relationship is directed toward passion, dissonant elements or distortions, such as jealousy, intending to impose your own will on your companion, or expressing egocentric attitudes will emerge. Take into account that love means to resign, in the sense that one must moderate aspects of oneself to find the balance with one's mate. Thus, if you are very impulsive and your mate is more conservative, both will have to relinquish to find a middle point in which the two of you are comfortable, the same is true the other way around. This continuous search for the middle ground and balance in a relationship of courtship or marriage brings the integration of the couple to perfection and self-realization.

Avoid imposing attitudes toward your companion, and you will become sensitive toward aspects that theoretically are more of the opposite sex than your own. In good measure, the relationship of a couple at a deeper level supposes the understanding of the polarity of ourselves - masculine or feminine - that stays more hidden or potential. Thus, a man has to learn sensibility, receptiveness and intuition from a woman. On the other hand, a woman has to learn certain qualities from a man that in principle are theoretically masculine, such as spontaneous decision, energetic reaction and competitive spirit. Through the dynamics of balance and weighing you will be able to perfect the elements of your character that still are in the virgin state or "in the rough". Little by little, each of you will be polishing those aspects of your personal psyche, as if filing the face of a diamond upon polishing it.

In love, give as much importance to the form as to the funds, and never regard a sexual relationship as a simple releases of energy. Rather, the development of your own energies characterizes greater love. Two forces are established to improve yourself, but not to lose yourself or wear yourself out. The principle of love on a higher level is when the physical support of the relationship is the base or launching ramp, but not the object or the end in itself. When the physical exchange is vitalized and revitalizes itself through love, delivery, confidence, sensibility and dedication, then real happiness is procured, since energies that are exchanged grow and multiply. Thus, the event of real love supposes the renovation of each partner. A romantic and elated end is fundamental so that the physical exchange will indeed be happy and merry.

This harmonious aspect of transiting Mars to Pluto generates an increase of your sexual and vital energy. Sexual energy is bound to self-confidence, which increases your total energy and personal magnetism during this period. It is a good time to deepen the interrelationship that exists between managing sexual energy and total vital energy. Sexual energy is a manifestation of total vital energy, and when sexual energy is used adequately, vital energy is increased. If you now have a satisfying sexual life you will observe that your personal energy will increase. Briefly, real sexuality does not consist of squandering your own energy, but exchanging it in an act in which psychological penetration, confidence and understanding with your mate exists. Thus, when mutual confidence and respect exists, sexual energy is exchanged and not wasted or worn. That is to say, this kind of relationship doesn't squander vital energy, but exactly the opposite, since each partner is more revitalized through the act of making love.

If you project this psychic energy toward someone you love and have full confidence in him/her, then that energy is strengthened, exalted and sublimated. In that way, your increased vital energy will allow you to have a clearer conscience.

It is very important for you to have an active sexual or physical relationship now, but also consider that it is essential to have psychological understanding with your mate as well as self-realization. You want to devote long periods of time to intense communication with your companion, since you have a need to exchange experiences, share your life together, poll your every day life, understand him/her better psychologically as well as to understand yourself better and, in fact, to perfect yourself.

Obviously self-realization is something personal, but it can be accelerated and intensified when each partner is committed to conscientiously improve his/her personality and impels the other to self-understanding. This is what designates real "sexual alchemy", according to which the sexual process is something that occurs on three different levels: physical, emotional and mental. This is the real concept of sexuality, the word derived from "six", that is to say, physical - emotional - mental of the man added to the physical - emotional - mental of the woman. A real sexual contact is produced on those three levels, and this is a good astrological aspect to begin understanding that kind of living together.

During these days your ego could be somewhat inflated and may affect your love relationship. You could become quite egocentric and expect your loved one to submit to your wishes. This will be accompanied by an increase in your own sensuous vital energy, which inclines you to express your feelings in a very open and theatrical way. Try not to continually subject your mate to your whims, since this would tip the scale of the balance that always must exist between both partners. It is possible that some small personal success of his/hers made you proud too, and now is something to boast about for your companion as well. It will even things out, be sincere, and possibly be a simple expression of your love during the time of this astrological aspect, thus attempting to understand each other much better.

Perhaps you also want to show off your mate socially, seeking personal grandeur. Without a doubt, you are proud of your mate, but it is also advisable to apply the virtues of balance and simplicity in this sense.

Learn to relinquish your points of view a little and you will find that this results in revitalization for you as well as for your partner. Obviously, you each possess your own individuality, but one should not try to underline or prevail more than the other, and both are strengthened in a balanced and just interrelationship.

Now you will prefer to go out with your mate in elegant style, very well dressed, and if possible, with something new that you have acquired, which could border on extravagant expenses that on the average could result in being somewhat offensive. Without a doubt, it is important in a couple's life to enjoy certain details or small mutually consented whims from time to time, but this should not lead to being too squeezed economically in the following weeks or months. Because of this, it doesn't depend so much on a big or striking gift or detail, but rather on a sentimental gesture. A flower delivered in a meaningful way and imparted with a lot of feeling can bring about an affectionate experience, while perhaps a large and decorative box of chocolates could be taken as a standard gift.

This harmonious astrological aspect energizes your emotions. That is to say, you will feel more competent to express your mental and emotional states in an open way, which causes you to be more direct and spontaneous in your sentimental relationships and, especially, with your family. If you usually are shy, it is a good time to exercise emotional advantage, self-confidence and direct expression of your emotional states.

As a rule, you will be more inclined to define circumstances, to participate actively, to decide and take part in family problems. In other words, you will prefer to take part in family decisions, and in that way try to improve conditions in your family, or solve problems that have been delayed or stagnant for some time. You never will avoid your part of responsibility that touches the dynamics of your family.

You now will be more sure of yourself psychologically, and what is very important, you are not attached to or stopped by people in your family environment. You prefer to devote part of your energies, your time and your effort to improve the dynamics of your family, have family gatherings from time to time to talk over your problems, or simply to pass the time. Thus, your personal self-esteem is increased, making you a very useful person prejudiced toward evolution and change, which will not bring states of emotional susceptibility or evasion. You prefer to sweeten the circumstances with motivation, facts, and fruit, rather than to attempt to adorn them, to defer them, or simply to delay them.

Sincerity and spontaneity in your emotional manifestations are essential for you now. You prefer to vent any possible resentment, hurt feelings or misunderstandings immediately. If there is something that concerns you or that doesn't seem right in your emotional relationships, you will try to clear the air quickly and without any dubiousness.

Briefly, you are going to express yourself with clear, direct and defined emotions, knowing how to combine your personal freedom with your responsibility toward your family or loved ones. All in all, it will be a phase in which your emotional and psychic experiences will be enriched, conscious, filled with life and very vital.

At this time your sexuality and total vital energy will be revitalized and must be released through a creative exchange. You will be fully aware of the effect of love and of each instant in the interrelationship with your partner. Moments like this cannot be repeated and, without a doubt, constitute a great opportunity to develop and improve your own psychological qualities. Sexuality is not only a release of energy, but to understand yourself through exchange with the other. The act of love is an event of self-understanding and personal self-realization.

This is a good time to openly express your feelings so that you will be totally sincere with yourself and with your loved one. Sharing is being open to new realities, and opening up is necessary for a confident and respectful environment. Putting these qualities into practice will prove that boredom and monotony do not exist in real love. There always is something new to experience, to communicate and to put into practice. Sexuality should not wear out your energy, but release, expand, revitalize and recover your personal strength. This is a good way of finding out if the relationship works correctly, since "nothing is created, nothing is destroyed and all is transformed". Thus, the integral act of love must result in the revitalization of both partners on the physical as well as the emotional and mental levels. As a rule, when someone is tired, it is because you are not achieving an energy circuit adapted to the environment. On the other hand, when someone is revitalized, it is because you readily tune into others, and in this case, your partner.

Talk about your improvements since you were together, comment on the psychological deficiencies you have surpassed, and bring to light those that still need a bit of polishing. This sincere exchange produces great results and deepens your level of communication.

INTENSITY: O

This is a good time to strengthen family relationships and the ties with your loved ones. During this period you see things more from an emotional point of view and your psyche now is able to surpass the susceptibilities, including those bound to family situations of the past. This is an auspicious time to be sincere, noble and open with the people most dear to you. It is well known that family relationships rarely are a bed of roses, since generally always one thorn or another emerges. Precisely, this astrological aspect can motivate you to approach and be reconciled with someone, with whom you previously had certain tension. This aspect almost guarantees success, since you are now above misunderstandings and mistakes of the past.

If you are married or have children, it is a good time to guarantee your personal individual integration with your family environment, living the fact that "the personal path of evolution starts in the family". You see that by emitting noble energies, the energies returned to you are also of high and protective character. It is a good time to try and make your household a bright spot, full of warmth, conscience and protection. At least, at this time it is very clear to you that even attempting it is worth the trouble, and that success can be achieved with a little effort.

You are sure of your feelings and the fondness of your loved ones, and because of this, deeply impress the people you love. It is neither more nor less than what is visible, and what is real, noble and high always grows and fructifies. In this case, you plant the seeds of delivery, sacrifice and nobility, and the fruit thereafter will be creative and full of deep emotional experiences. That is to say, if you show your emotions openly to your loved ones, your fondest dreams will be fulfilled, since they will reciprocate in the same way.

This aspect is of short duration and doesn't have too much strength, though it can be potent if it is used in a conscious way.

SATURN CONJUNCT MOON

This astrological aspect generates great sentimental maturity in you as it outlines your long term emotional, family and romantic relationships. You now feel the need for safety and emotional stability, and you prefer to practice "realistic romanticism". That is to say, you tend to plan your long term sentimental life, procuring that your economic resources are duly binding.

You believe that your emotional stability may be vulnerable if your professional or occupational situation does not accompany it. You will have to work hard and long to support the economic basis of your paternal family or your conjugal family, if you are married. Equally, if you are engaged, now will be the time to work with determination on the basis of the future household that you are going to establish.

You will find that matters of sentimental, family, economic and occupational character up to a certain point are very interlaced. In any case, it is advisable not to go to the extreme by wanting to guarantee your economic basis and devoting less time to your emotional or family relationships than they deserve. In that sense, it is a delicate time, since you are trying to harmonize and combine both worlds: on one hand the professional economic facet and on the other, the sentimental family field.

You probably will find it difficult to express your emotions and sentimental feelings during this period as you will be inclined to concentrate on yourself, which designates psychic introversion. Learn to express your feelings to your loved ones and don't take on everything yourself, if stumbles or difficulties in the outer world as well as within your family should emerge. This is a good time to become emotionally strengthened and matured, but you have to avoid being rigid, routine or a bit cold in your sensibility and sentimental expression. Don't go to the extreme of subduing your emotions because of your economic and daily responsibilities. It is always possible to make some time to devote to your family and your mate, since now, more than ever, you need balance between both facets.

If you are planning things related to your paternal family, your mate or your conjugal family, avoid excessively rigid plans since love, like water, needs certain freedom to move. When you are intimate with your mate or when you have a meeting with your family, make sure to put problematic or economic problems aside. It is not advisable to mix pessimism or outside problems with emotional matters. Value your sentimental possessions and don't complain so much.

In case you currently are not involved with anyone, avoid isolation or concentrating on yourself. You also shouldn't develop a kind of inferiority complex when you are going out and meeting people or when you are alone on the weekend listening to music or reading a good book. Amuse yourself freely, since it is important that you are not inhibited and have full confidence in yourself. To find a mate is not like waving a magic wand to solve your problems. Frequently, it is necessary to learn some lessons or have some experiences before establishing a sentimental relationship with the person you are waiting for. Avoid attitudes of isolation or of ascetic character, since everybody likes to converse with someone congenial, agreeable and good looking. One thing doesn't justify the other. You are seeking a lasting and deep love, but obviously, this has to begin with a good friendship and, at the same time, the friendship has to start through a social contact. If you deny yourself social contact, it is much more difficult to meet that person you are waiting for.

MARS SQUARE PLUTO

INTENSITY: 3

A disharmonious aspect of transiting Mars to Pluto greatly increases your vital and sensuous energies. Your desires, feelings and even passions can be quite high, which makes it necessary to control, moderate and soften these forces. You tend to express yourself with strong emotions and great psychological vigor, but on occasion could be a bit sharp or slightly explosive. Thus, you will also have to control your imagination, in order not to exaggerate or be obsessed by small details in your relationship. For example, there could be groundless jealousy with respect to your companion, or you may attempt to impose your decision on him/her. If you think that your mate has offended you, or you are hurt by something that recently happened between you, it is best to express it clearly, with respect and as soon as possible. If both of you would be accumulating concerns or susceptibilities, they would come to light quickly in the near future and would have to be discussed unnecessarily.

It is necessary to accompany the act of making love with intensive communication, before as well as during and after. Real sexuality requires a good psychic understanding between both partners so that there can be a real union. If distrust exists or one is concealing certain aspects from the other, it is very difficult to reach real ecstasy and happiness.

It is necessary that both of you share your daily decisions, so that you are not bound by commitments that previously have not been planned jointly. If each one acts on his own, then the other will feel why bother, which could increase individualism. It is an excellent time to bring to light the psychological defects of each that had been retarding the development of the relationship. It would be good to talk about what you dislike about each other as well as what each one intends to change in himself. Conversation about your behaviors, attitudes, virtues and psychological defects, as well as both of your daily experiences is the better way to strengthen your affectionate life. Sharing life together makes happier, and helping one another to better yourself establishes strong roots for the future. If each one wants to improve himself, and if each one wishes that the other improve, the sentimental relationship will be firm and very creative. Speaking about the daily problems from a constructive and positive view without a doubt generates a better vibratory and psychic atmosphere in the relationship.

VENUS CONJUNCT VENUS

A conjunction of transiting Venus to Venus reactivates your sensuality during the time of this astrological aspect. Each fiber of your being, and especially your emotional level, will be jolted by the vibration. Thus, you will be inclined to start new social relationships and want to share your experiences with your mate, want recreations filled with life and seek total expansion of your emotions. Your sensuous and vital energies are increased and you need to practice moderation so that you don't squander your energy. Don't allow yourself to be carried by the torrent of sensuality, but feel that every moment those forces revitalize you and surcharge your vitality. On the contrary, avoid frivolous relationships, think about the impression you make on others, and don't waste your energy with persons of little substance. It is preferable to refine or separate the experiences of your environment and select those that could help internally to make you a freer, more complete and happy person.

Your romantic sensibility is also potent during these dates and because of this you tend to see things through rose colored glasses. It is advisable to adopt some measures so that these moments of fullness are extended in the right direction. For example, use this period of time for sincerity with your mate, discover aspects in him/her that before you had not valued sufficiently and, in fact, transcend your personal love by approaching love honestly and not egotistically.

Without a doubt, transiting Venus conjunction Venus is an excellent opportunity to extol and increase love through beauty, refined details, intense emotional communication and opening your heart to others. Venus generates fusion, affinity, tuning in, and purification of the emotions.

Dec 28, 2010 6 AM (Dec 26, 2010 to Dec 29, 2010) Mars Sqr Moon

MARS SQUARE MOON

INTENSITY: 3

This astrological aspect stirs up your emotional life; that is to say, an escalation and revitalization on that level will be produced. Thus, the big problem will be to control that increase in energy in your mental states, your feelings, and your family and affectionate relationships. There will be ardor, delivery, sacrifice and spontaneity in your emotional life, but susceptibility, irritability and passion could also emerge. All in all, this is a phase in which many things in your sentimental and family relationships will be defined.

It is possible that a small disagreement or misunderstanding with a loved one could emerge, but try to soothe your spirits and control yourself. Don't make any emotional decision based on states of psychological irritability,

There could be hypersensitivity and resentment. More than anything, relaxation and psychic neutrality is important for being able to see things with objectivity. If you have been accumulating small animosities or misunderstandings with someone in the past, it is very possible that suddenly everything will come to light. When that happens, don't argue, but simply communicate, try to create an environment of mutual confidence and don't magnify things. Don't be melodramatic now, and don't deem yourself a victim of others. Consider the future, propose solutions and have sufficient greatness of the soul to forgive.

If during this phase you take on a family responsibility or have to decide something on behalf of your family, be very cautious, since you are inclined to be guided by rashness and excessive daring. Thus, if you make a mistake, you probably are going to lose some of the confidence that your family had in you. Because of this, it is advisable to heed the advise of an appropriate person and, above all, delay decisions somewhat so that they can mature. In this respect, you will not be alone and are supported by others that could facilitate your labor.

You will be direct, exempt and spontaneous in expressing your emotional states and your feelings, but don't go to extremes of ardor, fits of anger, or try to impose on your loved ones. Try to be a little more respectful, amiable and affectionate in your emotional expressions, avoiding at all cost abruptness and cultivating amiability. If you soften your emotional expressions, it is much more probable that your family and loved ones will be more receptive toward what you say or suggest to them. On the other hand, if you act in a hard way, they will close up and will be put on the defensive.

This is also a good time to bring to light elements from your infancy and adolescence that still could be active in your subconscious, in the wake of psychological experiences that still have not been assimilated well. If you have some antipathy, resentment or grudge toward some member of your family, now is the time to reflect on it and, thereafter, improve your relationship with that person.

This aspect symbolizes the possibility of a small irritation or conflict of little importance in your love relationship. Perhaps subconsciously something has been growing between you that has not been dealt with, come to light or outlined in a direct and respectful way. Now is the time to review possible latent issues between you, such as jealousy, secret sensitivities or egotistic attitudes of one with respect to the other. Don't forget that in love relationships there has to be revitalization from day to day that should not be neglected, but is advisable to maintain continual attention and concentration. Learn to share the achievements that each of you may have accomplished, talk about the psychological imperfections that still are within you and have not yet been surpassed, in fact, summarize your psyche in an earthly way. It is not the time to conceal anything, but rather to recognize your own limitations and making goals to surpass them. Sharing your limitations with your loved one will help you gain more strength to tackle the task.

You will also notice an increase in your sexual energy during the time of this astrological aspect, but at given times it could be expressed abruptly and vacillating. A satisfying sexual relationship requires self-control, commitment and desire. True love is accompanied by higher qualities such as the above mentioned. Don't forget that a sexual relationship is brought about simultaneously on the physical as well as the emotional and mental level. The physical vitality must be accompanied by the feeling of sincerity and intense communication so that the spark of real love can be produced.

Avoid superior or arrogant attitudes in your love relationship and practice sincere communication every day. Don't accumulate anything or keep anything for tomorrow. If you believe that your mate has failed in some way, first meditate on it and when you are completely calm, show respect and confidence in your companion. By continuing this method you will find that a good quality of communication is established, and the results will be seen by you alone. It is always preferable to quietly become aware of the situation before accusing each other without reason and common sense. Don't allow anything to alter the confidence in your mate, since this is the basis on which a stable and fulfilling relationship is sustained. Neither of you are perfect, and that is what makes your adventure more interesting.
